

Journal of Entomological and Acarological Research

Editor-in-Chief

Mario Colombo

University of Milan, Italy

The Journal of Entomological and Acarological Research (JEAR), formerly the Bollettino di Zoologia Agraria e di Bachicoltura of the Institute of Entomology of the Università degli Studi, Milano, was founded in 1928 by Remo Grandori. Thereafter, Minos Martelli and Luciano Süss hold the direction of the Journal until December 2011. In January 2012 the Editor decided for the new open-access on-line version of JEAR.

The Journal publishes original research papers concerning Arthropods; reviews, editorials, technical reports, brief notes, conference proceeding, letters to the Editor, book reviews are also welcome.

Our authors benefit from

- Higher and faster visibility
- Rigorous and constructive peer review
- Quick review and publication times
- True publishing cost
- Perpetual archives
- Language editing for all accepted papers

Visit the journal website

- Find the latest journal metrics
- Sign up for the free alerts with content overviews of the latest issues
- Learn about the complete editorial board
- Find detailed journal Aims & Scope

OPEN
ACCESS

NOW welcoming submissions

Journal of Entomological and Acarological Research coverage includes

- Entomology (systematics; morphology; biology; biotechnology; agriculture, ornamental and forest entomology; applied entomology; integrated pest management; biological control; apiculture and apidology; medical, urban and veterinary entomology; etc.)
- Stored product pests (biology; integrated pest management; etc.)
- Insect Ecology (behaviour; biodiversity; taxonomy; plant insect interaction and ecosystems; biological control; alien species; etc.)
- Acarology (systematics; morphology; biology; parasitology; control; etc.)

Editor-in-Chief
Mario Colombo